Create a GET /all API endpoint that produces a list of all the recipes you have inserted in the last assignment.

This response should be in a JSON format which is an array of recipe objects.

Integrate this endpoint at your frontend in your home route to view it in a html/js format.